

Get started with a free 6-month membership.

LegalRFQ connects you to law firms looking for your business via an easily managed Request for Quotes (RFQ) process. Here's how it works:

The Process

Post your project without identifying information

Law firms submit their quotes, including fee structure

Review the quotes and decide who to interview further

The Benefits

Cost-effectively receive competitive bids and marketing materials from qualified law firms that are eager for your business

Because they've paid to join LegalRFQ, you'll have access to experienced law firms that are committed to our simple process

Have complete control of the quote process; submitting law firms will not receive your contact information until you decide to interview them further

Choose from two membership types:
